My Story

It's been a while, am using ma phone. When I first un-boxed and started using the phone, it was working perfectly. But, after two-three hours of usage, the devil comes, it started randomly crashing and rebooting, I've tried different fastboot roms and custom roms, it was just randomly crashing. Then, I just left the phone charging, for the whole night. On morning, to my amazement, it just started working. It has been around 3 months am using the phone, but the same problem strikes again. Now, I was stuck. First of all, I thought it was battery problem, so I just calibrated the battery by charging it to 100%. But, the problem doesn't seems to change.

I've flashed different types of MIUI rom. The latest one was global beta dev rom 6.9.22, but to no avail, it just randomly reboots at loading screen which shows "Powered by Android" below.

I've tried flashing Resurrection Remix ROM, but it managed to boot up to screen and I can use the phone for a while. But, as I've tried to flash GApps and reboot the phone, but the phone got stuck at Optimizing App (googlesearchbox) and crash reboots.

Then, after a while I thought it was some kind of RAM problem. Because it seems to work once, but not the other time.

INFO - TO MY SURPRISE, I'VE EVEN TRIED TAKING OFF THE BACK CASE AND DISCONNECTING THE BATTERY CABLE, BUT IT DOESN'T WORK OUT.

Just, find out how I fixed the problem. It's not some kind of magic how-to instructions or software that solves the problem right away.

Steps to fix - When phone is up and successfully booted into OS

1. If your phone is up, then download the app Battery Drainer from the Downloads section.
2. Just open the downloaded app.
3. Select all the option it shows.
4. Press Start Draining button. It'll take some time to drain the battery out.
5. Then, keep the phone away, make sure your phone is under Fan or at least a 30 deg celsius below room temperature. Because, it may generate heat.
6. After around 9-10 hours of full discharging, now connect the phone to your charger which comes with your phone. (NOTE - DON'T USE YOUR LAPTOP OR PC FOR CHARGING)
7. If the battery is perfectly drained out, you would see a red light blinking for a while, before you get the actual charging screen stating 0%.
8. As soon as you see the charging screen, just power your phone up by holding the POWER button.

Steps to fix - When phone is down and you can access Fastboot

Make sure you're doing the below steps while just going to your bed or just leave your phone for 9-10 hours. As this process would take longer, when comparing to the above steps.

1. Just reboot your phone to Fastboot mode by press VOL- and POWER button simultaneously.
2. Keep pressing until you see the Fastboot screen.
3. Just follow the steps 5-8 mentioned in the above section of steps.

NOTE - The second series of steps works better than the first one.

What may have caused this issue?

It seems the battery is not calibrated properly, and that caused the problem. Follow the same step, if the same's happening again in the future. (That's what the issue I could find so far).

You would find this information on the brand website as well as on the label. The company has tested it beforehand. So, they know the best configuration for preparing the sample. As the name suggests, this comes in a liquid form and you do not have to add or mix anything. Just shake the container to mix it well. And, it is ready for use! Although finding synthetic urine at a lower cost is quite appealing, you could end up buying the wrong product. Creating synthetic urine is not an easy task, and it requires various ingredients such as urea and creatinine. None of these products is cheap. So, if you see someone selling you a pack of synthetic urine at surprisingly low prices, then it's probably fake. You might end up losing your job over attempts to save a few bucks. The brand's reliability and reputation carry a long way in ensuring the authenticity of a product. While this hair follicle detox shampoo has an extremely strong formula, it's still safe to use on permed or color-treated hair. It helps to dissolve any foreign toxins that are trapped in your hair, without stripping your scalp of its natural oils. These oils serve as a protective barrier against bacteria and other harmful elements that could damage your scalp. Removal of these essential oils can be a key indicator that you used a detox shampoo before the hair follicle test. That's why it's important to use a detoxifying shampoo with quality ingredients that are formulated at adequate percentages.
