How to stream a video torrent through VLC Media Player

Hey everyone,

I am back with a wonderful trick that you can solve this problem "How to stream a video torrent" in your day to day torrenty life.

Introduction

A torrent file is a small computer file allowing a computer user with a BitTorrent client to locate tracker computers, to locate other client computers of the peer-to-peer file sharing network with copies of parts of a large file or wanting parts of that large file, to get a copy of that large file in pieces from wherever it may be found across that global internet or to share what pieces the user has, reciprocally.

Prerequisites

1. Any video torrent file or a magnet URI.
2. VLC Media Player(or any other video player you prefer, can able to stream from URLs).
3. Bittorrent or uTorrent.

Steps on "How to stream a video torrent through VLC Media Player"

After the boring days through out my coding life. At last ended up searching some movies on internet pleasuring up and cooling up myself. But the hell comes out, the minimum size of a 720p movie is starting from 500mb to gbs. So my mind got hunting me, whispering against me do you wanna wait for this video to be downloaded. At last I started searching up through torrent software finding a way to stream the video file that I am downloading. At last I have found a thing that can make the movie watch while it is still downloading unbelievably through my favourite VLC Media Player. I started streaming just away from the 20% of downloading.

- Install all the prerequisites.
- Now after a successful installation, download a video torrent file that contains any type of video.
- Go open the torrent file with Bittorrent or uTorrent.
- After you started getting the peers connected and started downloading at a standard speed, when you reach an approximate of 10% or 15% (According to the video file size)(It is because the minimum of video headers to be downloaded,so that VLC can understand what type of video is and frames,etc),continue below.

- Go and click the torrent file you are downloading. (Filenames are hidden for my own security :))

- Now go and click on the Files tab.
- Select any video file you are downloading with that torrent file and Right Click it and click on the Copy Stream URL.

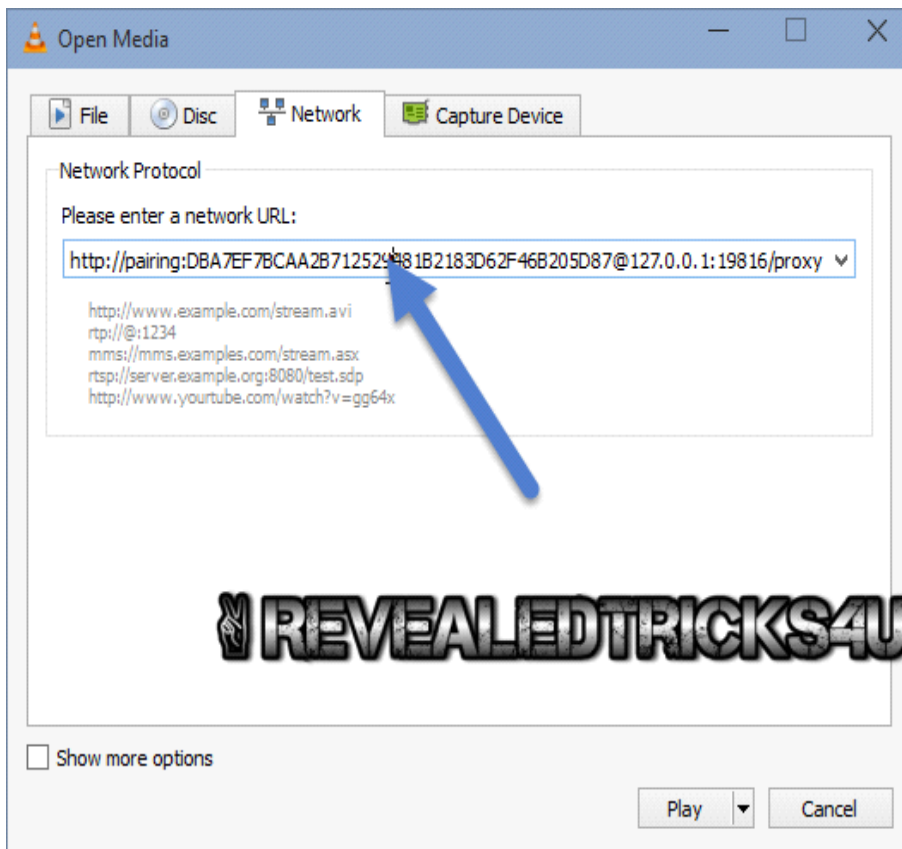

- Hurray now you hold the video streamable URL on your clipboard.
- Now go to VLC Media Player and Click on Media and Click Open Location from Clipboard else just press CTRL + V when the VLC media player is in focus.

- Now on the upcoming message box just press OK and start enjoying the movie while you are still downloading from the torrent.
- If you are using an older version of VLC Media Player you won't see an option for opening an URL from the clipboard. So you want to do this. Click Media and Click Open Network Stream (CTRL + N) and paste the URL into the textbox and Click Play like below.
