Step 2. Erase All Data on Your Android

The default setting of the program is to erase all contents on your device, here you can click the box besides the data type to save this kind of file on your phone. Otherwise, you can directly click "Erase Now" on the main interface to finish the process.

In addition don't forget to the microSD card inside your Android device. Data on it, including pictures and videos, as well as some application data, generally isn't erased with third-party program or format factory setting. So for this kinds of data, you can connect the card to computer and format it directly. If you're really paranoid, use one of those overwriting formatting programs. Or at the very least, just take it out of the device you're getting rid of.
